Why this projet ?

Among the priority needs of the Province of Attapeu is the provision of quality health services. One of the strategies to improve the quality of health services is the training of medical personnel, especially nurses, who play an essential role. To meet the growing need for qualified medical personnel, local authorities in Attapeu province opened a professional medical training center in 2016, but this training center is not yet accredited by the Ministry of Education because it doesn't reach the official criteria. Therefore, school officials approached the SFE, as a former partner, to develop a project to support medical education. After several official meetings within the school with the various stakeholders, it was established that the assistance of the SFE would be a real added value in the implementation of the health policy currently carried out in the Province.
